

bibliography

http://www.edscuola.it/archivio/comprendivi/cooperative_learning.htm

This is an interesting synthesis of theories which form the basis for cooperative learning; Dewey's learning social environment, Lewin's field theory of behaviour, Bion's relationship between cognitive and emotional aspects, Mugny's l'intelligence au pluriel, social representation of intelligence, Piaget's cooperation as an essential factor in intellectual progress, Vygotskij's zone of proximal development, Deutsch's interdependence theory, Johnson & Johnson's first experiences in cooperative learning

Dewey School and Society, 1889

Johnson D. Holubec E.J. The Nuts and Bolts of Cooperative Learning, Edina, Interaction Book Company, 1994

Comoglio, Cardoso Insegnare e apprendere in gruppo, LAS ROMA, 1996

On teaching methods in cooperative learning

www.inclusive-solutions.com contains many useful resources